FAQS

■ Do I need an estimate?

A Best Price agent will make a pre-move survey of your household goods to be transported. A pre-move survey is needed to determine the approximate cost of a move based on the amount of weight you are looking to move. Your Best Price agent will compute the approximate cost and give you an Estimate/ Order for Service. An accurate estimate cannot be calculated without a visual survey of the goods to be moved. There is no charge for the estimate. Keep in mind that estimates (household goods surveys) are only guidelines. On interstate shipments, final charges are determined by the actual weight of your shipment, the distance it travels, and the services that you authorize or which becomes necessary to handle your shipment.

■ Is a moving company "licensed?"

It would be more accurate to say that a moving company is "registered." For example, Best Price Moving has been issued a certificate of authority by the federal government to move household goods among any of the 48 states. As a motor carrier, Best Price has maintained a certificate of authority with the US Department of Transportation (DOT) since July 18, 1997.

■ How soon should I schedule my move?

It's never too soon to schedule your move. The more lead time you can give us, the better we can meet your needs. Usually late spring to early autumn is a very busy time for Best Price Moving. Our nationwide long distance moves typically ship in the middle and at the end of every month, and offer deliveries within two to seven days, depending on distance. You can expect a call from your delivery team when the shipment is leaving our warehouse. Our drivers are experienced, several have over ten years experience, and most have been with us multiple years.

■ How do you protect my belongings?

All furniture is wrapped in heavy quilted furniture blankets and secured with packing tape. For a small additional charge, we will provide the custom cartons, bubble wrap, or shrink wrap to protect your breakables. In order for us to assume any liability for these items and for computers, VCRs, DVD players, other electronics, table lamps, vases, glass and marble tops, etc.; they must be boxed and/or properly packed.

For certain antiques, large glass and marble tops, and other valuable breakables, we can provide you with specialty crating.

■ Can my possessions be stored temporarily?

If you are unable to take immediate possession of your new residence, your belongings can be stored at our 30,000 sq. foot facility temperature controlled located at 3912 W. Mclean, in Chicago IL. This storage is free for the first 30 calendar days. Should you require longer than 30 days, an additional month is available for the low price of $.05 cents per pound.
